

"I can't do this!"

I've searched and I've looked.
I've found no purpose.
Should I just end this all?
Is there a hope? Is there a future?
Who can I turn to?
Am I created or am I just a sliver of a chance?
Will I go or will I come back here?
Tell me, oh, please tell me, there is a hope.

Have you ever been like me? Have you ever known this?
Please tell me I'm not all alone in this battle.
For I fight on no physical level.
I'm fighting for me; for all of my life.
CRY OUT! That someone may hear me!
For I need to be saved from this destruction.
Please, I'm calling to the one who saves.
Come rescue me, for I am dying to live.
