

That First Kiss

I remember that first kiss,
Sitting on that bench
Both hearts filled with bliss
The thoughts that ran through my mind,
I've given him so many sign
"Why won't he kiss me?"

I remember he asked for a kiss
And just for fun I dismissed
The way he turned away
Made me want to say
Okay, come here
But my energy got shear.

I remember I grabbed his face
He was surprised,
Because I beat him to the race
I put his lips to mine

Then checked his face
To make sure I didn't cross the line.

I remember he looked at me and smiled
His emotions were not mild
He kissed me again
And that's just how it begins.

That's a time I'd miss
But I'll always remember my first kiss.
