You just won the California Lottery for 11 million dollars, your dream has come true. Life's good. You look good. You're healthy. Everything's perfect. So one day everything changes. You wake up as Joe Carabajal, a half tone 15 year old boy from Fairfield, CA. Joe weighs 987 pounds and he is only 15 years old. He has lived in his bed at his home nearly 8 years. He has a strong addiction to high fat greasy foods like fried chicken, fried cheese sticks, fried onion rings, and fried butter. He is forced one day to leave his home for the first time in nearly 8 years to go to the North Bay hospital for emergency gastric bypass surgery to save his life. One year later, Joe lost a total of 9 pounds and continues to eat McDonald's, Burger King, KFC, Popeyes, and panda Express. On a Monday, Joe was eating his 5th Big Mac and he has a stroke. He passes away on his bed.
