

Poem

feeling beautiful looking beautiful feeling chills between my fingers the dagger stabbed through my heart like i've been bitten by a vampire hoping someone will come and save me from the heart ache broken into pieces like a shattered window

By Cherish L.
Armijo High School