Could it be you the boy that i love could it be you the boy god sent from above

When you talk to me my legs get weak when you walk past me my heart skips a beat why is it that when youre near I cant speak when you say hi to me i get tingles in my feet im afraid to tell him who i am because he might not care and if he knows or finds out who i am i might not be able to speak beause ill have no air so if you find me ill try to say something that will make your day!
